B. H. BRISTOW,

SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF THE

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS MONOPOLY BROKEN.

It will be good news to all newspapers, outside of the "monopoly," on this Coast, to learn that on the 22d of December last the New York Association annulled their contract with the California Associated Press, and gave the Bulletin, Call and Record-Union notice that within ninety days their connection with the New York Associated Press would expire. In a very short time there will be in San Francisco a New York Associated Press office, and every newspaper in the interior or on this Coast may secure the telegraphic news. This statement was made by Mr. Chas. De Young, of the Chronicle, to the convention of interior newspaper men who gathered together in San Francisco a few days ago. Mr. De Young said:

He had recently, in the East, labored hard and long to break up the monopoly of the Eastern news on this coast. It had taken him five months to accomplish this work, and he was pleased to say that he had at length succeeded in making it possible, in a short time, for all the newspapers in this section of the country to obtain the New York Associated Press news. All the cunning and knavery of an opposition press has been brought to bear against him, but the New York Associated Press was brought to a realization of the conduct of the monopoly here. The present monopoly—the Call, Bulletin and Record-Union—have not acquiesced in this arrangement, and talk of fighting it. These papers will find that the New York Association will not be bluffed. It is said that a proposition has been made to you by the proprietors of the Bulletin and Call to have you join with them in the formation of an association. I can speak to you on behalf of the Chronicle and guarantee you our weight and influence in the formation of an association that cannot be otherwise than beneficial to you. The Chronicle's interests in this matter are mutual and identical with those of the entire interior press. So far as this matter of telegraphic news from the New York Associated Press is concerned the Chronicle will have it if it is alone compelled to bear the burden of expense. It is not necessary that the newspapers of the interior should take lengthy reports. Those papers that cannot afford to take the full report can have an abbreviated report of the fresh news of the day, whether it be in detail or in substance. The Chronicle has made this fight against the long-existing monopoly and in the interest of the entire press of the Pacific coast, whose active co-operation it hopes to have in the formation of a broad and liberal association.

We are very glad that Mr. De Young's mission East was such a success, and we desire to be counted in on the new association. Under the new order of things we have no doubt we will be able to furnish our readers telegraphic news at a reasonable cost to ourselves. Heretofore no interior country papers could afford to pay for the Associated Press news.

Reduction of Telegraph Rates.

The Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company, the only opposition telegraph line throughout the United States, have reduced their tariff rates from 20 to 30 per cent., between New York, Albany, Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Rochester, Syracuse and the oil regions and interchange cables between the principal cities throughout the United States. The reduction will be extended to all minor points.

Thus far this year the European demand for treasure has been comparatively light. The shipments from New York for the week ending on the 5th instant amounted to only $387,700, nearly all in fine Silver, while since January 1st the total is only $2,353,800, against over $11,000,000 for the same time last year and $3,300,000 for the same time in 1874.

Nevada in the Centennial.

(Virginia Enterprise, Feb. 15.)

We yesterday for a moment met Hon. C. C. Stevenson and learned from him that he had secured space for the quartz mill at Philadelphia and had also secured 2,800 square feet in the Smithsonian Institute, in which to display the specimens collected by Professors Whitehill and Stewart, in conjunction with those collected by Mr. Donaldson. He further informed us that the managers of the Smithsonian Institute would receive and label the specimens, but would charge for the cases $2,800. As we understand it, Nevada's appearance at the Centennial will consist of a cabinet of specimens labeled by strangers, five stamps, one amalgamating pan and one settler. We think the people of this State will be justly dissatisfied with this arrangement. We think if the Legislature last year had been told honestly that this was the intention of the directors that the members would have done as have the Legislatures of Virginia and Kentucky, to-wit: refused the appropriation. The specimens will be simply merged with or placed beside the gathered treasures of the Smithsonian Institute, thus being eclipsed from the start. Two men worked for a few months through our State to collect a Centennial cabinet. The whole world has for years been furnishing splendid specimens to the Smithsonian Institute. The multitudes present will not know these facts; there will be no one to explain them, and the contrast will be against Nevada, of course. Strangers will receive and label the specimens from this State. They will not know where they came from except that they were collected in Nevada. Two-thirds of the visitors will have no idea where Nevada is, except that it is a place in California. The main object for which the cabinet was collected will be entirely defeated. The showing of the State by districts, with intelligent explanations to the scientific and moneyed men present of the character of the formations from which the ores were taken, the location of each district, its distance from railroad communication, the advantages for securing mines and reducing ores, and lastly, the immense field which our State offers for men who seek investments in mines, will all be lost. As the thing now presents itself a direct fraud has been worked upon the people of this State from whom the specimens were obtained. Men in Columbus, Belmont, Pioche, White Pine, Eureka, Austin, Humboldt and a hundred other districts have given up their rare specimens, which could not have been bought with money, upon the understanding that their respective districts should be called attention to through their specimens. This can not be done now. Professor Whitehill refuses to give up his field-book without a compensation and we do not blame him. The Centennial Managers think he ought to, as he is an officer of the State. We think he has good grounds for refusing, for, however good the motives of the directors may be, they are not working in the interest of the State at all. They have managed to quarrel with both Whitehill and Stewart and now are trying to direct something, many of the details of which they know just about as much of as Whitehill knows of railroading or Stewart knows of banking. This is the condition of things at present. We may be mistaken, but as we look upon it, the showing of Nevada at the Centennial, if not a pitiable failure, will be but half a success, when if a little less pig headed stubbornness, a little less egotism and desire to control things, a little less of self sufficient pride and a little more sense, a little less self and a little more consideration for the wants and rights of the people of the whole State had been considered, the showing of our desert produce might be a glory where now it promises to be at best an impotent failure.

INGALLS said the Senate had already received information as to the ravages of insects upon vegetation in the West. During the past year actual loss from the ravages of the locust, chinch bug, army and cotton worm, and Hessian fly, exceed $200,000,000, and from the locust alone the amount exceeded $50,000,000. In seven counties of Minnesota nearly 60,000 bushels of locusts were destroyed at a cost of $80,000. He believed the subject was worthy the attention of Congress, and therefore introduced a bill for the protection of agriculture against injurious insects. Referred.

The shipments from Philadelphia last month were valued at $3,493,400, an increase of 100 per cent. as compared with the same month last year. The weather was unusually favorable for the export trade, and hence the large volume of business.

In the month of January there was an immense increase in the demand for postage stamps, cards and stamped envelopes, which amounted to three and a half millions, showing a great revival of business.

Of the $2,152,800 collected at the New York Custom-house last week, only $103,000 was in coin, the balance being in certificates.

TELEGRAPHIC MELANGE.Summary of Important Telegrams.*Closing of the Cortes—Speech of King Alfonso.

MADRID, FEB. 15.

The Cortes was opened to-day by the King in person. The King, addressing senators and deputies from the throne, said: The ill advised Prince who is waging civil war has been reduced to powerlessness, and can obtain no advantages. I shall speedily proceed north to contribute to the restoration of peace. My relations with foreign powers are friendly, negotiations being carried on with the United States in a friendly spirit, and afford reason to hope for a prompt and satisfactory settlement. The representatives of Spain at the Vatican are engaged in regulating pending questions in the manner required by the interests of church and State. My government will lay before you a statement of the financial condition which has been much impaired. The conclusion of peace, which is fortunately near at hand, can alone enable us to procure necessary sources of revenue in order to remedy existing evils. Through your patriotism the budget will be balanced and all public creditors be paid so far as possible without neglecting the development of the productive forces of the nation. Our honor and rights are threatened and even jeopardized in Cuba whither thirty thousand troops have been sent since my accession. The Cuban war has not prevented the emancipation of 76,000 slaves. We shall uphold the integrity of Cuban territory. The speech concluded as follows: "Inasmuch as the provinces of Biscay and Alava and the greater part of Navarre have been reduced to obedience, as the Carlists are hemmed in against the Pyrenees and as the Cuban insurrection daily becomes more feeble, my short but difficult reign has not been without good to the public. The efforts of Spain to preserve her place in the world show what she will accomplish when the strength is no longer wasted in sterile agitations. Heaven grant her a speedy recompense for our painful sacrifices."

During the delivery of the speech the King was frequently greeted with cheers, and at the passage about the emancipation of slaves cheers were loud and long continued.

The Austin and Battle Mountain Railroad.

AUSTIN, FEBRUARY 15.

The Reveille's of to night, referring to the report of Amos Bowman, Chief Engineer of the Austin and Battle Mountain Railroad survey, contains the following: Attached to this report is an estimate of the total cost of the work fully equipped with the terminus at either of three designated points. To the Cedar street terminus, including roadway, superstructure, equipments and buildings, $799,720; to Clifton, $726,678; to Main street terminus, $736,534. Those are outside estimates—that is, they are placed at the maximum figures, and many items contained could be materially reduced in cost. They contemplate a thoroughly constructed, full equipped, first-class road, but for a starter we could get along with less cars and less extensive buildings, and thus cut of several thousand dollars from the item of equipment and building, and what might be lacking could be added as the necessities of the road should require and it should earn the money to pay for them. With the $200,000 offered by the county as a subsidy, the capital required to construct the road is not enormous, and that the road when built will be a paying piece of property is beyond question. In this connection we copy the following item from the Eureka Sentinel in reference to Nye County freights, which would naturally form part of the business of the Austin and Battle Mountain road when completed: "Upward of 30 tons of machinery have arrived during the present week by the Eureka and Palisade Railroad, and over 50,000 pounds of freight for J. P. Dayton and the Jefferson Mining Company of Jefferson. A considerable amount has also been received for Tybo and Reveille. Nye county is no inconsiderable feeder of our local railroad."

Measures introduced by the Pacific Coast Delegation.

WASHINGTON, FEBRUARY 15.

Representative Wigginton has introduced a bill to abolish the coinage of quarter eagles and of one and three dollar gold pieces, and to provide for the coinage of a fifty dollar piece. The object is to widen the field for silver coin. Also a bill to restore the lands within one mile of Camp Independence to homestead and pre-emption entry.

Luttrell presented a memorial of 200 settlers against the passage of the bill to confirm the Albion Grant title to the parties represented by ex-Governor Haight. No action will be taken until all parties can be heard. The House Committee on Territories heard arguments to-day on Lane's bill to annex Walla Walla and Columbia counties to Oregon. Lane advocated the proposition because those counties belong to Oregon by natural boundaries, and because their inhabitants desire the exchange. Delegate Jacobs opposed it, on the ground that the rest of his constituents protest, and that the loss of this population will retard the admission of Washington Territory as a State.

Woman's Suffrage in Colorado.

DENVER, FEBRUARY 15.

The Constitutional Convention, after two days of earnest discussion, adopted a chapter on the elective franchise which requires the first State Legislature to provide by enactment for the submission of the woman's suffrage question to a vote of the people. This is regarded as favorable by the advocates of the measure, who claim a powerful constituency in Wyoming on the north has justified the privilege. In Kansas woman suffrage exists as to all school offices.

Bill to Tax Railroad Lands.

WASHINGTON, FEBRUARY 15.

The Senate Committee on Public Lands devoted its session to the consideration of Mr. Booth's bill to subject railroad lands to local taxation as soon as they are earned by the companies. The committee was unanimously in favor of the object of the bill, but there being some difference of opinion as to the best method of accomplishing it, the bill was referred with one by Harvey on the same subject to a sub-committee to report on details.

Escape of Dockeray.

A dispatch from New York, of date the 14th, gives the following intelligence:

Frederick A. Dockeray, whose case was the cause of Minister Cushing's demand upon the Spanish Government for the former gentleman's release, and the observance of the treaty of 1795, arrived in this city to-day on the Adriatic from Liverpool, having escaped from Spain. It will be remembered that he was condemned to death a year and a half ago in Cuba for communicating with the insurgents. The Court-martial was held in Puerto Principe, and its decision, through the intervention of Secretary Fish, was changed to a sentence for life in the Spanish galleys in Africa. Mr. Dockeray was, under this sentence, taken on the small Spanish mail steamer Antonia Lopez to Santander, Spain, a small port in the Bay of Biscay. Mr. Dockeray has filed a claim against the Spanish government for $100,000. He tells the following story of his escape: He says Nov. 19th he was informed the Spanish authorities had remanded him to the old prison in the convent, reporting to the local authorities, he was told they had no information on the subject. Freed from his parole, and not yet imprisoned, he thought now or never was his opportunity to escape, and by daybreak next morning he was on an American brig in the harbor. That night he was carried to a French steamer bound for Marseilles, but was informed that no passengers would be taken. On the following night, which was dark and rainy, he tried to board a British steamer. Rowing toward her, an open boat shot close to him, and one man said that must be the American who escaped. The next night he got on board the British steamer, but arrived at Denia 50 miles south of Valencia, the Captain becoming alarmed and insisted on landing him. The captain of a felucia came on board and persuaded by ten dollars and a bottle of brandy, consented to take Dockeray on board. The felucia sailed for Gibraltar and encountered a severe gale which blew for eight days, and was blown over to the African coast. The felucia put in at Tangiers in sight of the galleys of Centa, the nearest approach he was destined to make to his prison house. Thence he went to Gibraltar, where he put himself under protection of the British flag. From Gibraltar he went to London, and thence to New York.
